

“The Restore London team provided useful information & suggestions during the cleaning trials and then achieved a high, consistent standard of cleaning across all the facades of the building. The works were made very difficult by the close proximity of the general public, however, the protective measures deployed by Restore London worked very well”.

Natasha Anderson - Project Manager, McLaren

Scope of Works

Restore London were initially appointed by ORMS Architects to carry out extensive cleaning samples on both internal and external elevations. The redevelopment of the Town Hall includes for conversion of the Town Hall annex into a 270-room hotel. The works were supported by English Heritage who welcomed the annex on the grounds of “it’s considerable design merit”.

English Heritage were highly pleased with the works completed by Restore London in enhancing the finished aesthetic by successfully undertaking wet abrasive cleaning strategy to the external facades. Internally existing concrete was cleaned to provide a “rustic chic effect”.
